

I totally against the broadband over powerlines as this would seriously affect the use of Ham radio HF communications, through out the country. I think they should reconsider this thinking as it could hamper Ham communications.